LARGEST NUMBER, HONOR CAMPERS, MEET AT BUCCOU

Annual Meeting of Ajapeu Lodge, Order of The Arrow

STUNTS ARE PRESENTED

Officers of The Lodge Are Named by The Boy Scouts

The week-end saw the gathering of the largest number of Bucks County Boy Scout honor campers ever assembled at Camp Buccou. The countryside was never as beautiful as Saturday and Sunday. The vari-colored of the trees made an ideal setting for the annual meeting of Ajapeu Lodge of the Order of the Arrow, the Bucks County Lodge of Honor Campers.

Members of the Lodge gathered from all over the county in the Good Times Hall at the Scout Camp for their Saturday night gathering. Each group of scouts representing a community in the county presented a stunt. The gathering was concluded with "wieners," rolls, doughnuts and cider. Junior vice-chief Henry Pickering, of Gardenville, proved an excellent master of ceremonies.

The initiation of leaders who had done outstanding work for their troops during the past season of 1933 occupied a considerable part of the sessions. Starting with an overnight under the stars, and concluding with the ordeal and ritual on Sunday afternoon the leaders were given their first degree. The candidates included: Troop Committee chairman, William Amick, of Cornwells; patrol leader, William Amick, Jr., Cornwells; junior assistant Scoutmaster, Walter Carwithen, Jr., Doylestown; Scoutmaster Harold D. R. Crumrine, Langhorne; Scoutmaster, George Dorfner, of Mechanicsville; assistant Scoutmaster, John H. Ferguson, of Andalusia; assistant Scoutmaster Lewis Fetherolf, of Milford, N. J.; Scoutmaster Clarence Hawk, of Doylestown; Assistant Scoutmaster Benjamin Hughes, of Cornwells; Scoutmaster Frank Jackson, Sellersville; and Scoutmaster Raymond Locke, of Chalfont.

The initiates as a part of their ordeal cut a number of 12 inch chestnut posts for the foundations of the lodge house which the local county group is hoping to erect at the Scout camp. Holes were dug three feet, and the foundation poles were placed according to plans contributed by Architect Oscar S. Ledy, of Doylestown. The Lodge Committee appointed by the members will be Chairman William Amick of Cornwells, Southern Division Representative Robert Wright, of Bristol, Central Division Representative George Dorfner, of Mechanicsville, Northern Division Representative William Adams, of Riegelsville; Gagey-humet William F. Livermore, of Doylestown; Sakima Edward Baumiester, of South Langhorne, and Senior Vice-Chief Henry Pickering, of Gardenville.

The social committee presented a program for 1934 to consist of members sitting together at the County Court of Honor in February, feed to precede the Council Rally in April, divisional gatherings in June, initiations during July and August, annual meeting in October, and Christmas party during December.

The business committee sanctioned the action that all members delinquent in their annual dues will be permitted to attend all lodge sessions without vote. Six honorary members were elected, and will be announced as initiated. The lodge took action that

Chorus Named for Show Of the Mothers' Ass'n.

The rehearsals for "Heads Up," the four act comedy with music, that the Mothers' Association of Bristol public schools will present at the high school auditorium, Thursday and Friday, November 2nd and 3rd, have gotten under way with a swing.

Enthusiasm and interest mark the players' countenances in this largest of vocal talents, ever to be presented in Bristol.

The chorus which sings special musical numbers and dances intricate routines in special costumes, is comprised of the following: Marjorie Snook, Phyllis Weicher, Catherine Wicks, Virginia McIlvaine, Doris Hendricks, Evelyn Buck, Mary McCoy, Doris Connor, Peggy Morrell, Eleanor Dyer, Margaret Appleton, Adelaide Marino, Winifred Livesey, Rose Marcella, Doris Opdyke, Mary Smoyer, Elizabeth Mabery, Anna Hoffman.

Dorothy Evans, Barbara Lynch, Sylvia Howell, Irene Ranck, Gertrude Hanson, Thelma Weicks, Ethel Snyder, Phyllis Kallenback, Elizabeth De Luca, Marie Craven, Garnetta Herman, Norma Jean Miller, Ruth Richardson, Alice Keating, Lucy Pona, Eleanor Ridge, Viola Monaco.

The chorus will rehearse every afternoon and the cast every evening at the high school, with the exception of Friday evening, when rehearsal will be held in the auditorium of the school.

GOV'T. BARS FORD BIDS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26—Henry Ford's refusal to sign the N.R.A. motor automobile code today appeared likely to cost him millions of dollars in lucrative government contracts for motorizing the army and increasing the strength of the military air service. Marking outright disqualification of the Michigan motor magnate for his refusal to sign up with President Roosevelt's recovery program, the War Department let it be known, and officially, that the Ford firm will be barred from a share in the $10,000,000 worth of motor equipment to be purchased for modernizing the army and the latter's share in the $15,000,000 allotted for increasing the strength of the army and navy air forces.

GOLD PLAN ADVANCES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25—Encouraged by the fact that farm commodity prices have risen daily since the announcement of the new, gold purchase dollar control plan, President Roosevelt pushed steadily ahead today with his new policy, unimpaired of criticism abroad and skepticism at home.

Corn, wheat, cotton and live stock prices have advanced successfully for three days and administration officials were hopeful the advance will be maintained. So long as it is maintained, the administration will proceed cautiously with its certified price-fixing for gold. The official price of $31.36 per ounce, only slightly above the world price, was a modest beginning, but if no set-backs are met, it was predicted the Treasury will be increased by arbitrary shooting of daily gold prices upward.

Another aid to the corn farmers of the Middle-west was furnished by the government's "pegging" the price of 50c a bushel. This was accomplished as in the case of cotton, by the government agreeing to loan farmers 50c a bushel in those states which have warehouse acts. Loans are contingent upon producers' agreements to reduce acreage.

"DRYS" LOSE FIGHT TO PREVENT PENNA. VOTE

Court Holds Petitioners Have Not Established Injunction
Right

CRITICISES LATENESS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26 — National dry leaders today lost their fight to prevent a vote in Pennsylvania November 7th on repeal of the 18th amendment.

In a decision on a petition for an injunction, the Dauphin County court refused to restrain Secretary of the Commonwealth from printing and distributing ballots for the election of candidates to a constitutional convention. The Court held that the petitioners have not clearly established their right to an injunction. The suit was in the form of a taxpayer's bill designed to prevent the Secretary of the Commonwealth, Richard J. Beamish, from expending money. The Court found that the state had already certified the question to commissioners of the various counties and that it does not contemplate any additional expense in this connection.

The opinion was written by President Judge Wm. M. Hargest, with Judges Frank B. Wickersham and John E. Fox concurring.

The Court criticized the attitude of the petitioners in bringing the suit at such a late date. It suggested that the petitioners themselves apparently were not clear on the issue.

The entire contention, according to the opinion, resolved itself into the meaning of the word "convention" it having been argued by the petitioners that a convention must include a representative and a deliberative body.

The convention system, as proposed in this state for the vote on the question, is whether the dries contended because the 15 delegates at large did not represent individual political subdivisions, and they came to the convention instructed to vote and without power of discussing the issue.

The injunction petition had the backing of the National Prohibition Emergency Committee; the National United Committee for Law Enforcement; the National Civil League; the National W. C. T. U.; the Pacific Coast Branch of the Reform Federation, and the Women's Bible Class of the First Congregational Church of Washington, D. C.

Dr. Wm. S. Chase of the Reform Federation was one of the leading individuals seeking the injunction who appeared personally at the arguments this week and filed a brief in behalf of the dries.

ROBERT S. REED JOINS THE 500 BUSHEL CLUB

Local Farmer Breaks Into The Ranks of Those Securing
Large Production

HIS METHOD IS GIVEN

Robert S. Reed, who operates a farm near this borough, has succeeded in breaking into the ranks of the 500 Bushel Club. The announcement of Reed's success is made by County Agent William F. Greenawalt, who says Mr. Reed has produced on his farm an average of 593.4 bushels to the acre.

Mr. Reed's tract of potatoes this summer included 15 acres of the Green Mountain variety, the seed having been selected from the state of New York.

The report shows that Mr. Reed planted 15 bushels of seed to the acre on May 16. The vines started to wilt on September 20. Included in the report is the statement that the potatoes had been planted to an approximate depth of 2 inches and distance of planting was 33 inches between rows. The seed was planted 11 inches apart in the row.

The field which produced this fine yield in 1931 was devoted to corn and last year Mr. Reed planted the tract with tomatoes and rye. The seed bed was disced twice and a spike tooth harrow was put into operation once in preparing the seed bed.

After the seed was planted Mr. Reed harrowed the tract twice. He also cultivated it twice. The weeder was used twice.

In order to control the blight and other diseases which attack potatoes Mr. Reed sprayed the vines 13 times. He applied 1800 pounds of a 4-8-10 fertilizer to the acre, this having been drilled in the row.

This was the second time that the Green Mountain variety produced a yield of more than 400 bushels to the acre in Bucks county.

Candidate for Council

ARMAND V. MORRIS
Second Ward Councilman

Armand V. Morris was born in Bristol 58 years ago, the son of Captain R. H. and Alice L. (Vanuxem) Morris, both now deceased.

Procuring his early education in the schools of Bristol, Mr. Morris then went to Yale University and subsequently became connected with the Electric Storage Battery Company, with which concern he is still engaged.

Mr. Morris, a vestryman of St. James' Church, is a former member of the Bristol Board of Health. He is president of the Bristol Free Library and is a member of the State Board of Commissioners of Navigation for the Delaware River and its Navigable Tributaries; also of the Bristol Lodge of Elks.

His varied interests in civic and public affairs, and his active participation therein, made him a logical candidate for Borough Council from the Second Ward four years ago, which four-year term he is now concluding.

His experience and sympathetic understanding of the community's needs have made him a valuable member of that body, and in the September Primary his Republican constituents nominated him for another term.

He is, therefore, a candidate for reelection, Tuesday, November 7th, on the Republican ticket.

BENSALEM CHURCH IS BENEFICIARY UNDER WILL

Rome Horace Ellis, Friend, Given Income From Fund

OTHER WILLS ARE FILED

J. Wesley Sipler, of Bridgewater, who left an estate totaling $21,500, according to his will probated in the Register of Wills' office at Doylestown on Tuesday afternoon, in various codicils provided bequests for the Methodist-Episcopal Hospital of Philadelphia; the Methodist-Episcopal Home for the Aged at Bala; and the Bensalem Methodist-Episcopal Church.

His personal estate was valued at $10,000 and upwards, and real estate holdings amounted to $11,500. In the original will, Mrs. Josephine R. Sipler, the testator's stepmother, was bequeathed clothing, jewelry, silverware and household furnishings, but in a codicil, which was added to the will, this bequest was revoked, Rome Horace Ellis was named the final heir.

Rome Horace Ellis, a long time friend of the testator, was given an income from a trust fund created by the testator in the Girard Trust Company.

The charitable bequests, to be made after the death of certain living beneficiaries, will be divided into equal shares by the executor, the Girard Trust Co.

Leaving an estate of $12,100, Emil W. Haring, Quakertown resident, named his daughter, Bertha F. Haring, as executor.

With the exception of a bequest of $500 to a son, Howard, Emma Frederick, of Sellersville, will receive the residue of a $4600 estate left by her husband, Charles Frederick. The personal estate was valued at $2100.

Bequeathing his property, with the house and its possessions intact, to his daughter, E. Raezer, A. Raezer, of Bensalem, left an estate of $3200. Charles R. Raezer, a son, was appointed the executor of his father's estate.

Letters of administration in the estate of Warren C. Miller, of Dublin, amounting to $1200, were granted to Ella E. Miller. In the estate of Roy M. Rosenberger, of Northampton, letters of administration, amounting to $1700, were granted to Jennie Rosenberger.

George Facon was granted the letters of administration in the estate of John Facon, of Bristol, amounting to $400. In the estate of Anna Bevan, of New Britain, letters of administration amounting to $300, were granted to Thomas Bevan and Clarence Hunsberger.

Two inventories were filed. They were in the estate of Calvin C. Kehs, of Richland, $134.35, and in the estate of George W. Gross, of Perkasie, $3605.

DENIES PETITION TO CHANGE POLLS IN BENSALEM TWP.

School Board Objects to Use

Purpose

472 SIGN REMONSTRANCE

Court Denies Amending of Petition When Attorney
Objects

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 26 — President Judge Hiram H. Keller yesterday dismissed the petition of 244 voters of Upper Bensalem Township voting district asking that the polling place be moved from the Trappe Hotel owned by Lewis Swartz to the Penn Valley school house a short distance away.

No testimony was heard in the case but for two hours there was discussion by the attorneys on both sides before the Court handed down its decision. Judge Calvin S. Boyer was on the bench with Judge Keller.

Howard I. James, of Bristol, counsel for Swartz, the school board of Bensalem township and a large group of voters who protested against the removal of the present polling place, presented a petition at the hearing signed by 472 remonstrants of the district who objected to any change. Out of 472 remonstrants there were 35 people who had signed the original petition in addition to 135 Democrats.

At the same time, Mr. James presented to the Court a certified copy of a resolution passed by the Bensalem township school board forbidding any polling place to be moved into a school house in the district.

Thomas Ross, Doylestown attorney, and active in the Democratic party, made a motion to have his petition amended to show that in Bensalem township there were other more suitable places in which to conduct the elections. Mr. James' objection to the amendment was sustained by the Court, the Bristol attorney arguing that the original petition failed to name any other suitable places better than the present place at the Swartz hotel.

Judge Keller informed Attorney Ross that if anything was wrong with the election as held at the present polling place, it was not the fault of Mr. Swartz, and that due criminal action could be brought against any violator of the law if there is any violation.

Mr. James argued to the Court that with the resolution of the school board before the Court not allowing a polling place in the school house, that the Court was without jurisdiction to act.

Seated at the counsel table with Mr. Ross, attorney for the original petitioners for removal, was Albert A. Roesechen, who was informed by the Court that he had no authority to speak for the rest of the people who signed the petition, when it comes to asking that another place other than the school house be used as a polling place.

The Court refused to amend the petition and then dismissed the petition altogether.

The Trappe Hotel has been the headquarters of the Bensalem township, upper district, polling place for more than 100 years.

Cavalcade of The Theatre, "Broadway To Hollywood"

"Broadway to Hollywood," glittering pageant of the theatre, comes tonight to the Grand Theatre screen, bringing a dazzling cavalcade that ranges from Broadway of the "Gay Nineties" to modern Hollywood with an all-star cast which includes Alice Brady, Jackie Cooper, Jimmy Durante, Frank Morgan, Madge Evans, Eddie Quillan, Fay Templeton, May Robson and Russell Hardie.

The story opens at Tony Pastor's Theatre with the original "Two Hacketts," young dancers. They have a child. The act becomes "The Three Hacketts," with the youngest a seasoned trouper. He grows up, marries, and becomes a star. His aging parents have small roles. He is killed in the war, his wife dies, the grandparents take the child, and their act becomes "The Three Hacketts" again. But motion pictures encroach. Vaudeville is dying. The talking picture completes the downfall of vaudeville, and the grandson goes into pictures and becomes a star. He also becomes a spendthrift and "good time Charlie," and is in danger of being ousted from the screen when the old grandfather makes a "trouper" out of him again in a dramatic sequence.

Gorgeous ballets, a spectacular finale, and many lavish stage spectacles embellish the "cavalcade of the theatre."

La Rue also took the young oil princess to the Paramount studio to get her first glimpse of how movies are made.

Big question now is why all the secrecy when Janet and her guardian, Mrs. Edith Crockett, arrived here on the Santa Teresa. At that time, the heiress dodged ship news reporters, registered at the Ambasador under an assumed name and threatened to give up an expensive suite if a newspaperman so much as knocked on her door or reached the room on the telephone.

Once met, Janet is friendly and talks freely. She tells me she came to California expecting to stay two weeks and then to sail for the Orient and to Europe via the Suez Canal.

Now she may stay a month.

And her dearest ambition, of all things, is to feel an earthquake.

Gossips here are tittering over the remark of a theater-owner who previewed a picture and told studio

officials:

"Well, it's pretty good. Looks as if I might make within $200 of what

I cleared on the Mae West sheriff's picnic trailer."

Mary McCormick confessed to an interviewer the other day that she may wed a Los Angeles doctor.

Could the diva have meant Dr. Wil-been seen on numerous occasions

recently?

The full text of all Constitutional Amendments submitted to a vote of the people at said election, is as follows:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 1
Shall Section 13, Article III of the Constitution be amended to permit the Legislature to appropriate money for pensions or gratuities to blind persons twenty-one years of age and upwards?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 2
Shall a new section be added to Article IX of the Constitution permitting the General Assembly to authorize cities and boroughs to assess the cost of any highway improvements (including paving, curbing and the incidental grading and drainage) upon abutting property where no prior assessment has been made for a similar improvement?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 3
Shall Article III, Section 22 of the Constitution be amended to give to the General Assembly the unrestricted right to prescribe the nature and kind of investments for trust funds to be made by executors, administrators, trustees, guardians and other fiduciaries?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 4
Shall a new section be added to Article IX of the Constitution permitting the State to create debt and issue bonds to the amount of fifty million dollars to pay compensation to certain veterans of the Spanish American War, the China Relief Expedition, the Philippine War and the World War?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 5
Shall Section 1, Article VIII be amended by eliminating the tax qualification for voting?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 6
Shall Section 8, Article IX be amended by changing the borrowing capacity of counties, other than Philadelphia, from seven (7) per centum of the assessed value of all taxable property (including personal property) to ten (10) per centum of the assessed value of taxable real estate and by changing the borrowing capacity of Philadelphia from ten (10) per centum of the assessed value of all taxable property (including personal property) to fifteen (15) per centum of the assessed value of taxable real estate?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 7
Shall Section 2, Article XVII of the Constitution be amended by eliminating the so-called long and short haul clause applicable to railroad rates?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 8
Shall a new section be added to Article IX of the Constitution authorizing the Governor, Auditor General and State Treasurer to borrow not more than twenty-five million dollars to defray the expenses of the State government during the current biennium?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 9
Shall a new section be added to Article IX of the Constitution permitting the City of Philadelphia to levy special assessments against such abutting or non-abutting properties as are or will be especially benefited by the construction or operation of transit subways, rapid transit railways or other local transit facilities, and granting the city the power of eminent domain for such construction and operation?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 10
Shall a new section be added to Article XV of the Constitution permitting the General Assembly to authorize cities to take more land and property than is needed for actual construction in the laying out, widening, extending or relocating highways or streets connecting with bridges, crossing streams or tunnels under streams which form boundaries between Pennsylvania and any other State, and subsequently to sell or lease such part as is not actually required?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 11
Shall Section 4, Article XV of the Constitution be amended to permit the General Assembly, subject to the consent of the electors, and certain restrictions and limitations, to provide for the consolidation of the county, poor districts, cities, boroughs and townships of Allegheny County, into a consolidated city and county?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 12
Shall a new section be added to Article IX of the Constitution authorizing the General Assembly to borrow ten million dollars for acquiring toll bridges? Notice is also given that at said Election, 15 delegates will be elected to the Constitutional Convention to ratify or reject an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, proposed by both Houses of Congress, for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment to the said Constitution, and for the prohibition of the transportation, importation, delivery, or use of intoxicating liquors in violation of the laws of States, territories, or possessions of the United States.

STEAK AND ONIONS FOR DELICIOUS MEAL

These days economical recipes are most welcome, for it seems that every homemaker is expected to mend the hole in the family budget. At the same time she wants to give her family the kind of foods needed for proper nutrition. This is no small order and does require careful planning.

Fortunately, meat can be included in even the low-cost diet. This is a decided advantage in planning meals, for, aside from its excellent food value, meat adds flavor and tastiness to an otherwise uninteresting meal. It is a fact that foods which are enjoyed are more easily digested than are those which are bland and tasteless. A few suggestions for making tasty dishes from the economy cuts of meat are given.

Chuck Steak with Onions
Chuck steak
5 or 6 onions
Bacon drippings
Salt and pepper
Slice onions in water and drain thoroughly. Brown the steak on both

Breaded Liver
1½ pounds liver, sliced
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 egg
3 tablespoons milk
4 tablespoons lard
Salt and pepper

Beef, pork or lamb livers may all be used. Parboil the liver gently for five minutes, then drain. Dip in slightly beaten egg to which milk has been added. Roll in fine dry bread crumbs and fry in hot lard until nicely browned.

Naturally the cheaper cuts are made more succulent and flavorful by the use of a variety of seasonings and condiments. The following recipes suggest methods of preparing different cuts of meat in ways calculated to bring out their fullest flavor.

Savory Pot Roast
Chop ¼ pound of salt pork into bits. Roll the pieces in a mixture made of 1 teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon of pepper, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley and 1 teaspoon dry mustard. With a sharp pointed knife cut gashes in a 5-sides in bacon fat. Season with salt and pepper and add sliced onion. Pour one cup boiling water over the steak, cover closely and cook slowly for 30 minutes.

Lamb Fricassee with Tomato Sauce
2 pounds shoulder or breast of lamb
2 small onions
2 cups tomatoes
2 tablespoons lard
Salt and pepper

Have the shoulder or breast of lamb cut into pieces as for stew. Heat the fat, add the onions, cut fine, and the meat seasoned with salt and pepper. Brown the meat and onions in hot lard, then add the tomatoes. Cover and cook the meat slowly for two hours, adding water only if necessary. Just before serving, thicken the liquid with flour which has been smoothed in cold water.

Baked Round Steak
2½ pounds round steak, 1 in. thick
1 thinly sliced onion
1 green pepper
½ teaspoon horseradish, grated
1 lemon
Salt and pepper

1 cup strained tomatoes
2 cloves, parsley
Place steak in roasting pan and top with a layer of onion. Add a layer of green pepper cut in rings. Dot each pound rump roast of beef and insert the seasoned salt pork. Place in a bowl and roll the meat in ¼ cup vinegar. Let stand 3 or 4 hours before cooking, turning the meat occasionally. In a Dutch oven cook until yellow. 1 small chopped onion in 2 tablespoons of fat. Add the roast browning it well on all sides. Then add 4 medium size carrots, sliced; 2 turnips, quartered and 4 cups of cooked tomatoes. Cover tightly and simmer for 3 hours on top of stove or in a moderate oven.

Italian Steak
Pound a round steak and cut in pieces for serving. Dip in bread crumbs and beaten egg to which salt and pepper have been added. Brown quickly in hot olive oil. Remove from pan and fry.

Baked Round Steak
2½ pounds round steak, 1 in. thick
1 thinly sliced onion
1 green pepper
½ teaspoon horseradish, grated
1 lemon
Salt and pepper

1 cup strained tomatoes
2 cloves, parsley
Place steak in roasting pan and top with a layer of onion. Add a layer of green pepper cut in rings. Dot each green pepper with horseradish. Top each ring with thin slice of lemon. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour tomato juice over all. Bake uncovered in a moderate oven for 2 hours. When done garnish with parsley.

WALSH WITHDRAWS THREAT OF EXPOSE

By Davis J. Walsh
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Having an innate trust in mankind, I recall saying something a few weeks ago about an impending expose of scoundrels and those of whom honor is not sacred who, it seems, are operating openly in and around New York boxing. It is my wish today to withdraw that statement.

It is obviously untrue and I would add that this does not mean there are no scoundrels; only that there will be no expose. The more I see of the boxing commission, the more I suspect that it meets twice a week in order that it can take twice as long to do nothing. The boxing commission appears to have been very busy on this basis for the last several weeks, although in that time the closest scrutiny was merited by at least two fights that I know of and quite possibly some others that I don't.

There was, for example, the strange case of the fighter who was to take three knockdowns and lose. Instead, he took no knockdowns and won. This turned out to be very confusing, especially to the Broadway character who first took $200 against $450 on the right man but later called the bet back when informed that the fight was "bagged" for the other fighter.

There was also, I understand, an intended "push around" of a very good and very honest fighter in order that his worthy opponent might be in a position to challenge for a world's championship. This one wound up nowhere, too, because it seems that the "right guys" didn't go in. I have no way of knowing who the "wrong guys" of the profession may be, except in a general way, the testimony being that they are blackguards who go around interfering with other people by being respectable.

So those who are always saying that boxing is getting worse are crazy. It got worse long ago and then went into a slump.

GETS BEAR OUT OF TREE

LOCK HAVEN, Oct. 26.—(INS)—C. E. Logue, of First Fork, trapping instructor for the State Game Commission, and Lester Brown, Cameron County native, roped a bear from an apple tree on the farm of William Thompson, Wharton, Potter County.

The bear was uninjured and the men suffered only a few scratches in getting the animal, which had been frightened by the farmer when he found it eating his apples.

The bear climbed the tree and refused to come down. Its companion climbed another tree nearby, but descended voluntarily.

Logue stated that in his years of trapping wild animals, this was the first time he had ever been summoned to get a bear out of a tree.

Bears are so plentiful in Potter County this year that they show little fear of human beings and their dwellings. When Mrs. Harry Brooks, of East Fork, heard a noise at her kitchen window recently and investigated she found a 250-pound bear there, evidently attracted by the honey stored in the cellar. For fifteen minutes Bruin tried to get into the house but finally gave it up and walked a slanting fence post, dropped over the fence and disappeared into the woods.

GOLD PRICE INCREASES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—The price of gold increased today under the government's new dollar control plan. Today's price, fixed by President Roosevelt's advisors was $31.54 per ounce, an advance of 18c over yesterday's official price of $31.36. Chairman Jesse M. Jones of the R. F. C., made the following announcement: "The R. F. C. will accept subscriptions today for its issue of notes maturing February 1, 1934, that is, gold recovered from natural deposits in the United States and in territory subject to its jurisdiction at the rate of $31.54 per ounce of fine gold, under regulations for consignment, deposit and tender of gold, and delivered by obligations established by the Treasury Department and the R. F. C."

RELIEF ALLOCATIONS

Harrisburg, Oct. 26.—Allocations of $6,188,307 to Pennsylvania counties for relief work in November left a $36,252.84 balance today in the fund from which the Commonwealth procures its money to aid the needy and destitute. $450,000 of the grants went to counties for use in work relief. Previously, the amount allocated mostly for this purpose was $600,000. Failure of the $25,000,000 bond issue will force Governor Gifford Pinchot to include relief in his call for a special session of the General Assembly.

Resignations accepted by the Board included, Charles R. Essick, Reading, as a member of the Berks County Board and Fred J. Lanes, Allentown, as a member of the Lehigh County Board.

The allocations for food included, Bucks County, $18,500. Highway work relief allocations included, Bucks County, $4,642.

LOCALITIES TO PERFORM

Members of the Junior Travel Club, under direction of Mrs. Theodore B. Megargee, will stage a play tomorrow afternoon at the Bucks County Federation of Women's Clubs in Southampton. There will be two sessions, the first starting at 10 a. m.

PARTY TONIGHT

Catholic Daughters of America will conduct a masquerade party in the K. of C. home tonight. Members are asked to attend in Halloween costumes. Refreshments will be served.

American Stores Announce New Product

The American Stores Company has announced that a new product from their kitchens, Hom-de-Lite Pure Jelly, is now available in their stores throughout this vicinity.

Hom-de-Lite Jelly is packed in a new size, tall tumbler containing twelve ounces. Both Pure Grape and Pure Currant Jellies are packed under this label—a well-known name in homes where quality counts.

The popularity of jelly on the American table has continued to grow. Its ability to combine with many foods and result in exotic flavor effects makes jelly particularly adaptable to most every menu. Jelly is used with meats, especially lamb, chicken or other fowl. Peanut butter and jelly sandwiches are thoroughly enjoyable, but share their laurels with jelly and cream cheese mixtures. The old fashioned bread and jelly continues to be an important demand of the children after school.

Although a much used food, there are many homekeepers who do not make their own jellies because they find it is possible to buy very fine jellies as they buy their other groceries. Jelly-making is indeed an art, to which experts devote much practice before developing to the highest degree their ability to produce perfect jellies.

The Asco Kitchens are operated by experts in jelly-making. A visit to these spotless, sparkling rooms is a revelation in the care taken to insure the production of fine jellies.

Simon-Booz Wedding Takes Place at Emilie Church

EMILIE, Oct. 26.—The wedding of Miss Alice Booz and Nelson Simon was solemnized yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in Emilie M. E. Church with the Rev. Francis J. S. Morrow, Avondale, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Herbert Sanders, pastor of Emilie M. E. Church.

The bride was attired in a gown of white satin, made on Princess lines, and featuring long sleeves with puffs of lace. The cap-shaped veil was trimmed with pearl and rhinestone ornaments, and Irish lace. White satin slippers completed the costume, and the former Miss Booz carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Helen Booz, sister of the bride; while Mrs. Horace Booz, a sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Mary Wanner were bridesmaids. The maid of honor wore a dress of pink tulle, Princess style, with a jacket. A blue velvet sash, blue velvet turban, blue lace mitts, and pink satin slippers completed the costume. Her arm bouquet was formed of pink chrysanthemums and blue delphinium. The bridesmaids were garbed in green, the gowns being similar to that of the maid of honor. Accessories were also of green; and the two young women carried bouquets of pink and yellow chrysanthemums.

The flower girl was Dorothy Jacquelyn Simon, niece of the groom, who was dressed in blue satin, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow button chrysanthemums, and blue delphinium.

The best man was William Simon, brother of the groom; and ushers, Horace, Russell and Oscar Booz, brothers of the bride; and Leslie Craven, of Hatboro.

The edifice was decorated with plants and flowers, and a white arch was flower trimmed.

A reception took place at the home of the bride's parents, with members of the immediate families of the contracting parties attending.

The bride is a graduate of Bristol high school, class of 1925. Mr. Simon has for several years been associated with his mother, Mrs. Catharine Simon, Bath Road, in truck farming. After a motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Simon will be at their new home, Bath Road, after November 4th.

Largest Number, Honor Campers, Meet at Buccoo

there is to be no more than five Scout honor members nor one non-Scout honor member elected during any one year.

To improve the impressiveness of the ritual, Scoutmaster Frank Jackson, of Sellersville, was selected to perform the most difficult role of Meteu, the tribal medicine man. Leaders of degree teams were selected: First degree, William Adams, of Riegelsville; second degree, Henry Pickering, of Gardenville; and third degree, Scout Executive, William F. Livermore, Jr.

Sunday chapel service was led by Deputy Commissioner David Neill of Bristol, hymns by Scout Weldon Hendricks of Sellersville, prayer by Burtis Tomlinson of Morrisville, and scripture by John Hershey of Yardley.

The officers for 1934 to guide the destiny of the Ajapeu Lodge of the order of the Arrow were elected on Sunday at the annual meeting held at Camp Buccoo. Scout Executive William F. Livermore by virtue of his scouting Office serves as Supreme Chief of the Fire (Gegeyhumet). Officers elected were: Chief (Sakima), Edward Baumier, of South Langhorne; Vice Chief (Nischeneyit Sakima), Henry Pickering, of Gardenville; Junior Vice Chief (Mascheneyit Sakima), William Adams, of Riegelsville; Recorder (Opempees), Clarence Hawk, of Doylestown; Treasurer (Mawachpe), David Neill, of Bristol; Guardian of the Trail (Nutiket), William Carlin, of Chalfont, Deputy Guardian of the Trail (Nischeneyit Nutiket), George Godown, of Riegelsville; and Junior, Deputy of the Trail (Mascheneyit Nutiket), Burtis Tomlinson, of Morrisville.

The election of candidacy to the Third Degree requires the most careful study of the membership of the Lodge. It was found that the service, and leadership of Eagle Scout Robert Wright, of Bristol, was the greatest. By unanimous vote of the lodge, Scout Wright will be initiated at an early date.

Being founded on Indian Lore the National Honor Camp Brotherhood has great appeal to both young and adult members. The traditions of the order are from the Leni Lenape Tribe of Indians that inhabited the Delaware River Valley. Historically, the Order was conceived by the Philadelphia Boy Scout Council to recognize worthy campers at its Scout Camp located at Treasure Island, N. J. The Order has grown nationally until today it numbers 52 lodges. Just recently during the past summer President Franklin Roosevelt was inducted as a member at the Queens, N. Y., Council camp. The Ajapeu Lodge of the Bucks County Council was installed in the summer of 1927.

Sensational Sophomores

Dick CRAYNE
SENSATIONAL SOPHOMORE
THREAT OF OSSIE SOLEM'S IOWA ELEVEN--

STANFORD'S HOPES REST LARGELY ON THE WORK OF BOBBY GRAYSON, A SOPHOMORE FULLBACK.

EVERY football season is sure to see the rise to stardom of a number of brilliant sophomores, and the present campaign is no exception. Hardly had the season got under way when the sports page: were telling of the sensational feats of one Dick Crayne, unheralded sophomore fullback of the heretofore despised Iowa Hawkeyes.

Last year Iowa was the obliging doormat of the Big Ten Conference, but this season Ossie Solem has brought about a big change in the Hawkeyes. They started out with a bang by completely outplaying the touted Northwestern eleven, running away with a 7 to 0 victory that was much more one-sided than the score shows.

The chief cause of Iowa's great showing was the aforementioned sophomore, Crayne, who almost tore the Wildcats to shreds with his bone-crushing lunges, and completely demoralized Dick Hanley's gang with his elusive ball-carrying.

Iowa is not the only team that depends largely on sophomore stars this year. Princeton's first string eleven is liberally spotted with second year men, and so is the Notre Dame team.

At Stanford they are loudly singing the praises of Bobby Grayson, sophomore halfback and ball-carrier extraordinaire. Tiny Thornhill expects great things of Grayson, and the highly touted soph bogs down, the Indians' hopes will suffer a severe setback.

Hank Anderson has many bally-hoed sophomores from last year's great freshman team trying to break into the spotlight at Notre Dame. Chief among the Irish second-year men must be mentioned Don Elser, giant fullback touted as a greater Savoldi, and Tony Mazziotti, a quarterback from Frank Carideo's stamping grounds at White Plains, N. Y.

Bill Ingram's California eleven have won several of their games because of the sensational work of some sophomore backs, and many other elevens have come up with brilliant second year grid stars this season.
